Sizemore Insurance

Homeowners Protection Details

Dwelling
Protects the cost to repair or fully rebuild your home.

Other Structures
Covers detached structures such as garages, fences, or sheds on your property.

Personal Property
Protects belongings inside your home including furniture, electronics, clothing, and household items.

Loss of Use
Helps pay for temporary living expenses if your home becomes uninhabitable due to a covered loss.

Liability Protection

These coverages work together to restore home and daily life after a covered loss.

Personal Liability	Provides coverage if someone is injured on your property, such as at a child's birthday party or if a guest trips and falls while visiting, and you are found legally responsible.
Medical Payments	Helps cover minor medical expenses for a guest injured on your property regardless of fault.

Other

All-Perils Deductible
The amount you pay out of pocket before your homeowners coverage kicks in for most types of claims.

Wind/Hail Deductible
The percentage of the dwelling coverage amount you pay for damage specifically caused by wind or hail.

Water and Sewer Backup
Provides coverage for damage caused by water backup through sewers or drains.

Replacement Cost
Ensures you receive the full cost to replace damaged personal property without depreciation.

25% Extended Replacement Cost
Provides an additional 25% of coverage beyond the policy's limit to help rebuild your home in case construction costs exceed the original amount insured.
